THE USE OF EDUCATIONAL FILMS

The use of educational films in schools is on the increase. The demand has been held ephemeral by many producers, but it has kept up steadily and become so insistent that many companies are finding it pays better to produce them to sell to schools than to engage in the making of plays, which have at best but a short life.

Visual education has always been recognized as a powerful aid in the acquiring of knowledge. Actual travel is better than the illustrated lecture; the chemical experiment performed is worth a dozen read about in books. The motion picture, so lifelike, is worth any quantity of illustrations; its showing of processes beats any possible description.

Educators are naturally, and rightly, conservative. The educational world has learned to beware the fad, the fancy, the radical idea in teaching. Some are still averse to the motion picture, but their number is decreasing. The fact that conservative educators find the film a real help is the best argument why school boards should see to it that schools are equipped with projectors and that the higher type of producers should provide that the supply of educational films becomes inexhaustible.

After all is said, the real work of the world is providing for its continuance and its betterment. That means making citizens out of children, educated men and women out of students.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, July 30.—"Bob Is Deceived," was the headline in a local paper which gave La Follette backer a shock as they sat down to their bacon and eggs the other morning. Visions of some dark conspiracy against the Independent presidential candidate raced through their minds. Nothing less, it seemed, could justify the definite, unqualified statement as set forth in black-faced type.

Hurriedly they pitched into the text of the story. Then they clapped back with sighs of relief. For, it then dawned upon them, there are other "Bobs" than Bob La Follette. For instance, the Single Bob.

And the doom which was foretold in the printed piece was not the doom of Bob La Follette, general in the political adversary, but the doom of the feminine hank bob, centered in the delegates to the National Republican Convention.

But just as the loyal La Follette legion would have reacted and claimed against their favorite, a counter-claim against the feminine bob, they deny the right of the bob to stop hereafter to force them even under the slavery of long hair.

Here in Washington, hidden but not longer a mark of happiness.

Maid and matron alike, from the breezy debaters to the staid G. O. P. candidate for the Senate, may their short locks as an index of newly achieved independence.

They may have cut them just before the "bob" type. But the bob's real popularity is due to its comfort, not to any mere matter of following the fashion.

In this battle for the "survival of the bobs," the following suggestion may not be inappropriate:

There is no more important work before any of us than that of conquest, invention, commerce, exploration, discovery, are all less important than the people who will one day carry on the torch we pass to their hands.

Let us, then, do our part in emphasizing the need of more and better educational films, travel films, scientific films; let us insist that our children's school be equipped with a suitable projector and screen, that our children have the utmost in benefit from one of the great inventions of the nineteenth century, which is only now, in the twentieth, coming into full fruition.

—International Book Review.

Unexpected Returns
A certain statesman recently became a parent. On announcing the news the doctor exclaimed gleefully: "I congratulate you, sir; you are the father of triplets." The politician was astonished. "No, no, no," he replied with more than Parliamentary eloquence, "there must be some mistake in the return. I demand a recount."—Tit-Bits.

Why not organize the bobs for Bob? Since the old party year horses have Bob La Follette marked for the discard, just as the beauty parlor artists have decreed the doom of the feminine hank bob, why not line up the Feminine Bobs behind Fight Bob and thereby corner at once the thousands of votes that are ready to revert to an exclusively masculine right?

La Follette's platform declares against Special Privilege. The right to short hair must not be permitted to revert to an exclusively masculine right!

Let the bobs save Bob and Bob will save the bobs.

Democratic sloganers are still searching for some happy phrase to effect the "Keep Cool With Coolidge" out of the G. O. P.

The latest offering, submitted by William Baker of Athol, N. Y., is: "Keep Decent With Davis."

Answering the insinuation of this line, however, the La Follette camp comes back with the warning: "Don't Throw Dirt on Bob and Burdett."

While the Republicans retort that the last incident in the Democratic slogan is additional reason for the "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge."

The aftermath of Senator Brookhart's debate to the staid G. O. P. candidate for the Senate, may be the entrance of John T. Adams, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, into the race as an "Independent."

Brookhart, the "Republican" nominee, will support the candidacy of La Follette, the Independent, for president. Adams, as an "Independent," would fight both Brookhart, the Republican, and La Follette, the Independent.

Tom Sims Says

An old flame with love letters can make things hot for a man.

What this country needs is shoe strings that last as long as shoes.

When a man shoots himself he gets the one to blame for his troubles.

Seeing her with her face dirty is a fine cure for love sickness.

Now Russia is making autos. When people begin to get on their feet they want to get off of them.

When a bootlegger is seized with the grippe it keeps him in longer than when he is seized with a suitcase.

The real modern parents promises his son an auto if he doesn't smoke or drink until he is 12 year old.

In St. Louis, a musician lost his fortune playing poker, which is much harder to play than a piano.

Never worry if a boy hates to get his hair cut. He may grow up and become an orator.

Lots of people will interrupt a phonograph record to tell you how much they are enjoying it.

Life is ups and downs. Like hills and valleys, if there were no downs there could be no ups.

The reason so many don't get ahead of the game is they don't play.

Deadly Cougar Flees After Biting Guard

By Associated Press.
OLYMPIA, Wash., July 18.—An attack by a cougar, one of very few on record, has been reported from the Olympic National Forest, Western Washington, by Glen Merchant, a forest guard.

Mr. Merchant said the cougar sprang from some brush and tore off a trouser leg and severely scratched him. He hit the cougar on the nose with a fishing rod, and ran. The beast did not follow.

PAGEANT COURT OF AGRICULTURE

Fayette County Tobacco Growers Present Historic Scenes Near Lexington.

Associated Press.
LEXINGTON, Ky., July 18.—The spirit of co-operation in agriculture was pictured in a colorful pageant given at Vaughn's Woods, near Lexington, Saturday.

"The Court of Agriculture," was presented by the Fayette County Local of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association with about 500 persons from the various localities of Fayette county and from Lexington, participating.

The pageant was given before thousands of guests in the grandstand, on the farm, cleared of woods and underbrush, and following addresses by former governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, President James C. Stone of the association, and Judge Robert W. Bingham.

Virgil Chapman, prominent in organization of burley and dark tobacco organizations, was leader.

The prologue showed the Court of Queen Agriculture. She entered, her chariot drawn by Wisdom, Patience, Courage, and Strength. Attending her were Liberty, Independence, and Justice, representing "The Spirit of 1776." The queen summoned representatives of her realm, Dairying, Tobacco, Corn, Wheat, Bluegrass, Hay, and Truck Gardening.

Five episodes followed. The first showed conquest of America by the spade. The planters of Jamestown, with John Rolfe and his Indian bride, Pocahontas, rejoiced over the plentiful harvest of tobacco which brought prosperity to the settlement. An English trader brought the bachelors of the community a cargo of lovely young women from London as brides.

"The Farmer at Mr. Vernon" was the title of the second episode. The farmer, George Washington, and his wife were depicted, entertaining their friends. Washington displayed his bumper crop of tobacco. Led by Nellie and John Castle, Washington's stepson and daughter, the young people danced a minuet. This was interrupted by the sound of marching and the rifle and drum in the distance. The minute men entered, led by Paul Revere, preceded by Liberty, Independence and Justice, their ideals. Approaching Washington they discarded their farm implements and picked up guns. Washington made home and family good-bye and assumed the place of leader.

"Happy Days in Dixie" was the third episode. The happy farmers and their families were enjoying independence and prosperity. Around the plantation door all the neighbors were making merry with song and dance. The grown folks danced a Virginia reel. The children enjoyed a happy singing game. The plantation negroes sang and danced.

"Hard Times" followed in the next episode. Happy days on the farm were no more. Speculation entered and all the action was one of disaster, poverty and despair. The farmers were working hopelessly at harvesting and stripping their crops of tobacco. The speculators, victorious and prosperous, appeared on the scene. They were attended by little demons of "Trickery, Injustice and Unfairness."

The last episode, "Co-operation to the Rescue," shows the farmers and their families in despair but while they mourn there is heard in the distance the sound of rifle and bugle, and there appears to them "The Spirit of 1776," representing to them the necessity of "throwing off the yoke of speculation as their forefathers did the yoke of tyranny." The farmers took courage and summoned co-operation.

OLD RESIDENT GIVEN

UP BY PHYSICIANS
"Given up by five doctors, my only hope an operation. I rebelled on cutting me open, as I am 75 years old. A neighbor advised trying Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for stomach trouble. I got relief right away. I had not eaten for 10 days and was as yellow as a gold piece. I could have lived only a few days but for this medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince of money refunded. At Lee's and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

SHATTERED NERVES

Lady Says She Was In a Desperate Condition, But "Now In Splendid Health" After Taking Cardui.

Dale, Ind.—"About three years ago," says Mrs. Flora Roberts, of this place, "I had the flu, which left me in a desperate condition. I had a bad cough. I went down in weight to little over one hundred pounds. I took different medicines—did everything, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I hurt so badly in the chest at times I would have to go to the door to get my breath.

"I would have the headache and was so weak I felt like I would just have to sink down and stay there.

"My nerves were shattered. I looked for something awful to happen—I would tremble and shake at a noise.

"My mother said, 'Do try Cardui,' and my husband insisted till I began its use. I used two bottles of Cardui and noted a big improvement in my condition. I kept up the Cardui and weigh 180 pounds. I am now in splendid health—sure am a firm believer in Cardui, for I'm satisfied it did the work."

"After a weakening illness a tonic is needed to help regain lost strength. Many thousands of women have found Cardui exactly what they needed for this purpose. It may be just what you need. Try it. All druggists."

James E. Fahey, secretary of the fair, was notified here today.

These prizes are offered in addition to those to be awarded by the fair associations, he was notified by officials of the association in Chicago. Provisions also have been made for awarding cash prizes to boys and girls exhibiting Holstein calf club calves, he was informed.

Holstein-Friesians will be judges Friday, September 12, he said. The conditions he gave as follows:

All animals must be registered before exhibition. A transfer of ownership for the purpose of exhibiting will debar an animal.

All animals over six months must have been tested for tuberculosis within six months by a duly accredited state or federal veterinarian.

Vienna Scandal Cause of Count's Expulsion

By Associated Press.
VIENNA, July 21.—Aristocratic Vienna has been split into two camps as the outcome of the expulsion of Count Adalbert Sternberg from Austria by the police, at the request of Count Heriere Herberstein, controller of the household of the former Archduke Friedrich.

Accusations growing out of a game of cards at the Jockey Club led to Herberstein, as president of the club, ordering Sternberg's expulsion. Sternberg subsequently slapped Herberstein's face in a crowded street. Herberstein, declaring that it was the police to expel him from the club, beneath his dignity to cross swords with a man like Sternberg, or to go to Slovakia within 12 hours.

190 Paid Out

by the Railroads every time the Clock Ticks

Just a few years ago, the expression, "A billion dollar Congress," startled the people of this Nation. It seemed beyond the bounds of reason that this staggering sum of money would be required to run our Government.

Compare this figure with the fact that in 1923 the railroads of America distributed six billion dollars—a sum nearly twice as great as the entire expenditures of the National Government during that year.

Of this sum more than one billion dollars, representing new capital, practically all of which was borrowed, was invested in new equipment, new tracks, and added facilities. Out of the earnings of the railroads, approximately two billion dollars were expended for fuel, steel, lumber, and other supplies. More than three billion dollars went for wages; and approximately $336,000,000 was paid in taxes. Brought down to the smallest fraction of time, this staggering sum of six billion dollars represents an expenditure on the part of the railroads in your prosperity, and in the general prosperity of the Nation, of approximately $190 every time the clock ticks.

Reduced to the same unit of time, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, in 1923, spent in the operation of its properties $3.67 per second, or a total of $317,000 per day—which figure includes labor, taxes, fuel and supplies, but does not include the $31,600,000 invested last year in new equipment and improvements to L. & N. property.

Remember that the railroads put more money into circulation than any other American institution; and that in one family out of every fifteen the bread-winner is a railroad employee.

THE PHOTOGRAPH ON MY DESK

Written for The Christian Science Monitor.

Those earnest eyes look level into mine—
True eyes without a trace of shame to him;
Beneath their gaze, I could not write a line
They could not read, were she here at my side;
To me they are a challenge and a sign;
And by their trust, my pen is sanctified.

RATS LIKE LIQUOR, VENDOR IS JAILED

Unique Experiment In Court Produces Evidence, Sufficient to Convict.

By Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., July 30.—Thirteen sleek rats, penned in a cage in a chemist's laboratory, were instrumental in government agents obtaining conviction of an Omaha man and his wife on a liquor selling charge, with subsequent sentence of a year in jail and a heavy fine for each in federal court.

The question of sampling the liquor which the pair sold was brought up in court, and to determine whether it was fit for human consumption, the agents submitted it to a chemist. He fed it to the rats and then watched their reaction.

The rodents displayed many of the characteristics of an intoxicated human, the chemist reported. Not one died, rather they all thrived, he declared on the witness stand. Although defense counsel questioned the admissibility of the experiment as evidence it was allowed to stand as indicating the potency and possibilities of the liquor for beverage purposes.
